ANZAM Early Career Academic Workshop: Presenting your Academic Curriculum Vitae (CV)

Friday 9 June 2017 – 10.00am

Z Block, Room 1004 (Level 10) – QUT Gardens Point (City) Campus

10-11am: One-on-One Sessions

11am-12noon: Panel Discussion, Question Time, Networking

Get feedback on your academic CV from a panel of senior university academics and managers from around Australia

This Workshop is aimed at Early Career Academics (usually within 5 years of PhD completion) but everyone is welcome. The aim is to provide feedback and discussion about how to present CVs for future academic/management/leadership roles within universities that you may aspire to. It will also look at social media profiles. ANZAM brings together senior staff from many different universities around the country, so you can get feedback from people working at universities other than your own. Participation in this Workshop does not mean you intend to leave your own university; it is designed to give you some extra information which may be helpful for your future.

Participants are asked to submit their CVs to Professor Lisa Bradley (lm.bradley@qut.edu.au) prior to the workshop, but no later than Friday 26 May. Please also indicate if there is a particular type of future role that is desired (e.g., Research-focussed Professor; Head of School; Teaching and Learning Co-ordinator, etc). Several senior academic panel members will look at each CV and provide feedback. Each participant will then receive feedback specific to his/her CV and social media profile in a one-on-one session with at least one panel member. Following the one-on-one sessions, the panel will provide some overall advice, discuss how they see future opportunities in universities, and respond to questions.

Panel members include:

- Professor Lisa Bradley, former Head of School, QUT Business School
- Professor Kerry Brown, School of Business and Law, Edith Cowan University
- Professor Melanie Bryant, Head of School, University of Tasmania.
- Professor Lee Di Milia, Dean of Business and Law, CQUniversity
- Associate Professor Antoine Hermens, former Head of Management Discipline, UTS
- Professor Peter Murray, Head of School, University of Southern Queensland
- Associate Professor Martie-Louise Verreyne, Cluster Leader, UQ Business School
