The 16th ANZAM Operations, Supply Chain and Services Management Symposium will be hosted by CQUniversity's School of Business and Law, and held at CQU's Brisbane Campus near Brisbane city's King George Square. The Symposium theme for 2018 is Entrepreneurship and Global Supply Chain Management Driving Sustainability and Social Innovation. This theme ties in very well with CQU's strong focus on Social Innovation, being the Australia's only recognised Changemaker Campus, having been accepted into the global social innovation group Ashoka U.

This Symposium has long been known to provide a venue where academics, research students and practitioners have an opportunity to share their research, knowledge and practical experiences in operations, supply chain and service management. In this way, the Symposium contributes to the continuing development of these key areas of management theory and practice and enhances the partnership between research and practice.

Call for Papers

We invite contributions addressing issues in the operations, supply chain, and services management disciplines. These contributions should aim to take the discipline forward and can be of any type, including conceptual papers, empirical studies, analytical modelling, and simulation. Papers addressing our theme of global supply chain management for sustainability and social innovation are particularly welcomed.

Authors are encouraged to submit full papers for review (5000 words max.), or extended abstracts of 500-800 words. Review procedures will be coordinated by Professor Amrik Sohal and Associate Professor Daniel Prajogo.

NOTE: A website is currently being developed for this symposium that will provide further details.
