

Researching for Engagement and Impact

Wednesday December 5 2018
2.00 pm – 3.40 pm

Why Come?

This workshop is designed to be highly interactive and will focus on sharing insights between the SIG members on new ways to:

- Engage with practitioners
To learn from each other about what works, why, and what this suggests we need to pay attention to
- Optimise the relevance of scholarship to health service management
Develop a deeper understanding of the value we can offer
- Enhance impact and produce useful outcomes for academics and practitioners
Explore opportunities to strengthen our mutual contributions to make a positive difference

ANZAM

Health Management and Organisation Special Interest Group

Wednesday, December 5, 2018
2.00 pm – 3.40 pm

ANZAM Conference Cordis Hotel Auckland
Room Great 1 WS6

This workshop provides an exciting opportunity for higher degree and early career researchers, including practitioners, to come together and learn from each other about effective and practical ways to develop, negotiate, and undertake research that engage practitioners and their organisations for impact. Through reflection, exchange, and lessons learnt, participants will gather new insights into how to engage with practitioners to optimise the relevance of their research and achieve outcomes that have real impact.

What's Involved?

- 2:00 pm: Introductions
- 2:10 pm: Hearing from participants
- 2:25 pm: Lessons from the field
- 2:45 pm: Let's get down to business
- 3:35 pm: How the HMO SIG can support you

Want to Participate?

Please register via the following URL as places are STRICTLY LIMITED:

<https://goo.gl/forms/uAtzQVvM03CSY57R2>

For further information, contact:
A.Dadich@western.edu.au or
Benjamin.Farr-Wharton@uts.edu.au

ANZAM
AUSTRALIAN & NEW ZEALAND
ACADEMY OF MANAGEMENT