

2021 ANZAM Innovative Management Educator of the Year Award

Sponsored by Massey Business School and ANZAM

ANZAM is delighted to offer the Innovative Management Educator of the Year Award. The Award aims to recognise and encourage innovation and excellence in Management teaching, as well as to provide opportunities for sharing good teaching practice. The winner will be chosen by a selection panel comprising three members of the ANZAM Board.

The ANZAM Innovative Management Educator of the Year Award consists of a plaque and a free registration to the ANZAM Conference in the year following the award. The Award is normally announced and presented at an award ceremony during the ANZAM Conference. However, as the 2021 Conference will be held in a virtual format, the announcement will be made on the ANZAM website and via social media in December 2021. Applicants will be notified prior to this.

In addition, the Award recipient has the opportunity to present a Masterclass, or similar, at the ANZAM Conference in the following year. The content of the workshop will be related to the area of expertise of the Award winner, and developed in conjunction with the ANZAM Board.

To be considered for this Award, applicants must:

- Be employed to teach undergraduate or postgraduate University management courses. Applications are welcome from all levels of appointment (Associate Lecturer to Professor). Sessional/casual lecturers are also welcome to apply.
- Be paid-up professional members of ANZAM for at least one (1) year (which may be the year of submission).
- Have demonstrated excellence and innovation in teaching in management education.
- Not have applied for the Award in the previous year. Applicants can reapply after a year's break to accrue more evidence.

Submission Instructions

Applications will be accepted from eligible ANZAM members, who are nominated by at least two academic colleagues of the applicant. Each application should include the following documentation, formatted in Times New Roman 12 point, in 1.5 line spacing:

- Completed application form (see below);
- Each nominator's recommendation should include an assessment of the applicant's teaching and reason for the nomination (1 page maximum each);
- Applicant's response to the Award criteria (see below) (4 pages maximum);
- Applicant's CV including current position, educational qualifications, career history, teaching experience, learning and pedagogical publications (4 pages maximum);
- A 'biography' of no more than 50 words;

- Summary of teaching evaluations (2 pages maximum);
- Samples of teaching materials (e.g. subject or course outlines, contributions to curriculum or programme design, videos/clips, assignments, course hand-outs, study guides – 10 pages maximum, or up to 15 minutes viewing/listening if video, CD, or audio tape format).

Applications must be submitted to the ANZAM Academy Office at anzam@anzam.org no later than 5.00pm, Friday 3 September 2021. In fairness to other applicants, we regret we cannot accept late, incomplete, oversized, or incorrect applications.

Selection Criteria

The applicant is required to select one (or two maximum) from the selection criteria below and provide a response which explains their excellence in relation to those selected criteria.

The selection criteria for this Award include:

1. Innovative teaching – evidence of innovative practice in teaching and learning including new teaching strategies, pedagogies, or methods.
2. Facilitating learning – evidence of innovative teaching and learning approaches that actively engage students.
3. Research/Teaching Nexus – evidence of building innovative connections across the research and teaching nexus.

The application will be evaluated based on the evidence provided in relation to the selected criteria.

The evidence may include:

1. Third party feedback – evidence of effective innovative teaching provided by students and colleagues such as teaching evaluations.
2. Dissemination of pedagogical perspectives – evidence of documentation, publication and dissemination of your innovative pedagogical practices and perspectives.
3. Samples of teaching materials which demonstrate or indicate innovative teaching/learning/practice e.g. subject or course outlines, contributions to curriculum or programme design, assignments, course hand-outs, study guides.

The selection panel reserves the right not to confer an award if the quality of the application/s is not deemed sufficiently high.
