2021 Activities – Summary

Due to COVID-19 and associated restrictions since April 2020 and into 2021 the ANZAM MMR SIG has been considerably less active as in previous years.

The ANZAM SIG was first established in 2011, ten years ago at the ANZAM Conference in Hobart 2011.

Foundational Co-founders:

- Dr Ros Cameron
- Prof. Ray Cooksey (ANZAM Life Member)
- Prof Anneke Fitzgerald

1. 1. Yearly subscription Mixed Methods International Research Association (MMIRA) $USA100.00

<https://mmira.wildapricot.org/>

Ros Cameron is currently an Executive Board member of the Mixed Methods International Research Association (MMIRA) and Committee member of the MMIRA-Oceania Chapter of the MMIRA.

2. Editor of Edward Elgar Handbook of MMR in Business & Management

Professor Ros Cameron and Dr Xanthe Golenko (co-editors of Handbook)

International Advisory Committee for the Handbook:

- Professor Jose Molina-Azorin, University of Alicante, Spain and Editor of JMMR (Q1 ranked)
- Professor Judith Schoonenboon, University of Vienna, Austria
- Em. Professor Anneke Fitzgerald, Griffith University
- Professor Pat Bazeley, UWS and TUA
- Dr Aharon Factor, SCU

The aim of the Handbook of Mixed Methods Research in Business and Management will be to provide an essential resource for anyone interested in the contemporary, emerging, and evolving practice of mixed methods research and scholarship. It is anticipated that the Handbook of Mixed Methods Research in Business and Management will offer foundational mixed methods research (MMR) design concepts and considerations, as well as coverage of MMR across a variety of business and management disciplines and sub-disciplines together with a section dedicated to innovative MMR designs and analytical techniques.

Current plans involve approximately 30 chapters of the handbook organized across the following 3 sections:

Part A: Foundations of Mixed Methods Research Designs and Features
