2022 ANZAM and European Management Journal

Early Career Researcher (ECR) Award

ANZAM is delighted to offer the Early Career Researcher (ECR) Award.

This year the award is sponsored by European Management Journal.

The Award aims to foster and recognise the research and scholarly achievements of emerging researchers who are at an early stage of their academic careers. The winner of this Award is chosen by a selection panel comprising at least three members of the ANZAM Board.

The ANZAM Early Career Researcher award consists of a certificate, and a cash prize of $2500.00. The award will be promoted via ANZAM's website and social media channels. The Award will be announced and presented at the award ceremony during the ANZAM Conference (6th & 7th December 2022, Griffith University campus, Gold Coast, Queensland).

To be considered for this award, applicants must;

- Have been awarded a doctoral degree (or equivalent) within the 5 year period prior to the Award's submission deadline (normally October 1 of the year of the Award);

- Not be currently employed at a higher level than Academic Level C (Australia) or Senior Lecturer (New Zealand);

- Not have held an academic appointment for a period of more than 5 years where research was part of performance expectations;

- Have held a personal membership of ANZAM for at least 2 of the last 5 years including the year of application; and

- Be willing to present a paper, or lead a symposium on their research, at the annual ANZAM Conference in the year following this application.

In assessing applications, the selection panel will pay particular attention to the quality, standing, and impact of applicants' research outputs, as well as the outlets in which these are published. In addition, attention will be paid to the originality, contemporary significance, conceptual, methodological and theoretical soundness of applicants' published work and their developing platform of research. Assessment will also take into account track record relevant to opportunity.

The selection panel will take into consideration grants awarded as a result of applicants' research.

The selection panel reserves the right not to confer an award if the quality of the application/s is not deemed sufficiently high.
