

ANZAM Calendar of Events and Professional Development opportunities for members.

ANZAM runs Professional development sessions for its members. Some of these are specifically tailored to Associate/Student members, Heads of Schools or Institutional members.

What is coming up?

Place these dates into your diary so you don't miss out!

As an ANZAM member, you will be notified via email of all available PD sessions. If you know someone who is not an ANZAM member but interested in a session, non-members can attend for a small administrative cost, which will be charged after completing registration.

DATE	SESSION DETAILS
18/07/22 12pm-1pm (AEST/QLD)	ASSOCIATE/STUDENT PD “Industry Engagement: What is it, how to do it and why you should” We have two great presenters this month: organisational development consultant and ANZAM Industry Fellow Anne Smyth, and research coach and business development Dr Richard Huysmans. Anne and Richard will be talking about the nuts and bolts of doing research in your own or others' organisations and how to foster and support productive industry exchange and development and leverage your own expertise. Whether you're yet to collect data, are having problems collecting data, or want to work with or in industry post-PhD, this session is for you. Anne Smyth and Dr Richard Huysmans To register for this session: https://us06web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJlrde-urTorHN2ho12SGzFpuasgEX13qUpB
27/07/22 11am-12.30pm (AEDT/Sydney)	“Supervising your HDR Students” In July ANZAM welcomes back Emeritus Professor Anneke Fitzgerald. Anneke has a distinguished career during which time she has supervised 18 HDR students to completion. The session will focus on how to be a supervisor and build and maintain a good relationship with your HDR students. It will touch on backgrounding and managing expectations; maintaining healthy relationships within the supervisory team; and overcoming some of the difficulties you might encounter. Emeritus Professor Anneke Fitzgerald, Griffith University To register for this session: https://us06web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZwvde2rqTljGtPByEiag3gk-6gboG4Jltz
28/07/22 HOSOM/IM meeting Invitation only event 12pm-1.30pm (AEDT/Sydney)	“Working on Campus: Can We Go Back to the Future – and Should We?” The consensus is that not all staff want to be back on campus and there are a myriad of reasons why. Universities are pushing to recreate the pre-pandemic sense of vibrancy on campus for both students and staff but are also facing push back on environmental and wellbeing grounds. What are the issues and strategies being used to revitalise the post-pandemic campus and what are the resistance points? What might happen to the university and the university experience if we all stayed at home? Panel will include: Professor Kate Kearins, Professor Tim Bentley and one other panelist to be confirmed. Facilitated by: Professor Bevan Catley, Massey University New Zealand Invitation only event
17/08/22 12pm-1pm (AEST/QLD)	ASSOCIATE/STUDENT PD “Teaching sustainability and business in Aotearoa New Zealand: My journey of being pākehā” Associate Professor, Sara Walton, University of Otago Registration will open in July for this session.
21/09/22 12pm-1pm (AEST/QLD)	ASSOCIATE/STUDENT PD “A juggling act of pursuing a PhD, university teaching, engaging with industry... and yes, life!” Dr Subas Dhakal, UNE Business School More information and registration details to be provided shortly.

DATE	SESSION DETAILS
27/10/22 12pm-1.30pm (AEDT/Sydney)	“To be or not to be social: Social media for academics” “To be or not to be social: Social Media for Academics”, is an online, interactive workshop, that delves into the use of social media, specifically, LinkedIn and Twitter, for personal, professional Academic staff brand building. At the conclusion of the course, participants will have developed an understanding on how to leverage social media for personal Academic brand development. Participants will learn about the importance of having a personal brand building strategy that aligns with both personal and organisational development and branding opportunities. Personal brand building opportunities primarily on LinkedIn and also on Twitter will be discussed. Through an evaluation of extant social media content, participants will be guided to scrutinize for effectiveness, impact and engagement. Practical advice about tactics for building a personal and organisational brand will be discussed. Participants will be supported through the (re)building of their LinkedIn profile, followed by the preparation and publishing of a post relevant to their current position.” Dr Violetta Wilk, Edith Cowan University Registration will open in September for this session.
November Date/time to be confirmed.	ASSOCIATE/STUDENT PD Coming soon! Details to be finalised.
November Date/time to be confirmed.	“The Art of Academic writing and publishing for English as a second language (ESL) researchers” Academic performance is judged in part on one’s level of linguistic competence in English. As a consequence, scholars who wish to succeed on the academic market must be able to write in English not only fluently but also eloquently. This places non-native English speakers in a disadvantageous position. The goal of this session is therefore to have a discussion regarding the various challenges that non-native English speakers face when writing and publishing in English. ANZAM will bring together a panel of experienced and well-published management researchers who approach the theme from diverse perspectives. Associate Professor Chia-Yen (Chad) Chiu will lead a panel. Registration will open in October for this session.
