Thesis writing and writing for publication workshop
Call for Expression of Interest

September, 2023, Monash University, Caulfield Melbourne, Australia

Organizers: Uma Jogulu, Julie Wolfram Cox, Alison Pullen

This workshop aims to support women early researchers completing a PhD and planning to publish their research. The workshop will focus on thesis writing especially preparing the thesis for submission, and writing for publication. Strategies for publishing in highly ranked Management and Organization Studies journals will be discussed, as well as developing a career as a women academic in Australian Business Schools. There will be a workshop dinner at Monash Art Gallery sponsored by Society for the Advancement of Management Studies and plenty of opportunities to meet colleagues from around Australia.

Workshop plan and schedule:

Joint Panel Sessions:

Writing up: Surviving and thriving in the 'Last Year'

Career Planning and Choices

Publication Options: Academic journals and beyond

- Alison Pullen (Macquarie)
- Véronique Ambrosini (Monash)
- Fahreen Alamgir (Monash)
- Michelle Greenwood (Monash)

Gendering intersections among Ph.D/work/life

Who should attend?

PhD candidates in their final year, post field work/data collection stage aiming to complete thesis writing and planning to write and submit journal publications as part of the transition from the PhD to becoming early career researchers/lecturers in Management and Organization Studies.

How to attend?

If you are interested in participating, please send a short expression of interest statement on how the workshop will assist your PhD completion and also state the nature and methodology of your research.
