HDR Student Networking

Making Connections Virtually

26th July 2023, 12pm – 1.30pm AEST

Connecting with peers across universities and regions is critical to forging new collaborations for future research projects.

ANZAM in 2023 is therefore organising a “virtual” session for HDR students to network with peers, who are geographically dispersed but share similar or complementary research interests.

This virtual networking session is a prelude to the forthcoming ANZAM Doctoral Workshop on Monday, 4 December in Wellington, New Zealand.

The 90-minute session is FREE to attend for all HDR students regardless of their membership status with ANZAM. The aim of course is to facilitate introductions and fruitful conversations in the wider HDR community.

Please be sure to indicate your research stream so that you may be placed in an appropriate breakout room.
