

Hello,

Welcome to the November newsletter of the Journal of Management & Organization. I thank the Australian and New Zealand Academy of Management Executive board and readers of the journal for their support which includes the authors, Associate Editors and reviewers. At the moment we have a 8.4% acceptance rate which indicates the high quality of the journal. We have had over 800 articles submitted during the past year which shows the popularity and relevance of management research and practice in society.

We appreciate the efforts of our editorial board and reviewers in helping with the journal. To further highlight the importance of reviewers who often go unacknowledged in their hard work we have instigated a best reviewer of the month certificate. Please find below more details of the best reviewers since the program was started in 2025.

Best reviewers by month and institutional affiliation:

Month	Best reviewer	Institutional affiliation
May	Paul Strickland	La Trobe University
June	Cristina Perez-Perez	Rey Juan Carlos University
July	Yuen Onn Choong	Universiti Tunku Abdul Rahman
August	Hanoku Bathula	University of Auckland
September	Kerry Hudson	Cardiff Business School
October	Tomasz Wisniewski	The Open University
November	Belinda Steffan	University of Edinburgh

We are continuing to receive articles for the 30th Birthday special journal issue so I encourage you to consider submitting to it as the deadline is 30th December 2025. As part of this special journal issue there is a bibliometric article in press detailing how the journal has changed over the past 30 years so it should be available online soon. We particularly encourage articles to engage with the previous scholarship published in the journal in order to further develop management research and practice.

Some of the recently online first articles discuss topics such as the four day work week, coworking, menopause, employee wellbeing and psychological ownership. Please see the website below to read them:
